"Gentlemen's Agreement"

Cell-mate of Self-confessed Wife-slayer Is an Alleged Bank Burglar,
Who Fails to Appreciate Sentences
on Poetry and Philosophy. Alienist Describes Nervous Temperament of the Prisoner.

New York, June 26.—The four alienists whom Judge Charlton has engaged to examine into the sanity of his son, Porter Charlton, are not all working together. The three New York experts, Drs. Charles L. Dana, Allan McLane Hamilton, and Edward S. Fisher, have entered into a "gentlemen's agreement," according to Dr. Fisher, to view young Charlton simultaneously and then consult one another about what they saw before reporting on his condition; also that they will take their time about deciding whether the boy who has confessed to murdering his wife by Lake Como is sane or insane.

Dr. William Jerome Arlitz, police surgeon in Jersey City and the fourth alienist engaged by Judge Charlton, is pursuing his studies of Porter Charlton alone. He would make his report independently of the three New York experts, and he will have it ready very soon, probably by Tuesday. It will be made, of course, directly to Judge Charlton, but as Dr. Arlitz has already practically said what he thinks of young Charlton's condition, there is no doubt that his verdict will be that the youth is suffering from dementia adolescenta, a form of paranoia.

Enter Into Agreement.
Dr. Hamilton and Dr. Dana were out of town to-day. Dr. Fisher said over the telephone that he would not discuss the case in any way, since he and Drs. Hamilton and Dana had entered into an agreement to act together. Dr. Fisher would not even say if he thought Dr. Arlitz's opinion, pointing unmistakably to adolescent insanity, were correct.

He added that he and the two other New York experts would make no effort to have their report on Charlton's condition ready Tuesday, when Charlton is to be arraigned before Judge Blair, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in Jersey City.

He did not know when the report he and his two fellow-physicians are to make would be ready. The three of them have only seen Charlton once, and they will visit him together only. At least one other, besides the alienist, will be necessary, and no time has been agreed on for that.

Charlton got into such a state of nervousness to-day, when Dr. Arlitz telephoned to Dr. William J. Arlitz, Dr. Arlitz came rushing up in his automobile. The boy prisoner had been crying and falling on his knees and begging his bed while he moaned and wept. The warden was afraid he might make himself ill. Dr. Arlitz took him in hand, and after looking him over, decided to administer no medicine at all, not even a bromide.

After a while Charlton got quieter, and the doctor left him. Dr. Arlitz said he thought Charlton was in a little better through the night, but added that the boy was worse than when he examined him on Saturday.

There was nobody at all to see Charlton to-day. He slept well last night and awoke looking refreshed physically, but seeming still to be in that peculiar bewilderment that he has shown ever since his arrest. He spent the whole day very quietly reading, talking in little spurts to Burke, the alleged bank burglar, who is his cellmate, and enacting little dramas in his mind's eye which brought into play all his varying emotions.

Does Not Attend Service.

He ate everything that was sent him. A brief religious service was conducted in the county jail Sunday. He did not attend it, but his cell is where he could hear most of it. He would listen to a hymn or prayer and then begin to sing in an undertone to himself. At times it was a simple, familiar air he sang, but more often he hummed an aria from grand opera or seemed to revel in the cadence of an Italian folk song. Then he would talk to Burke concerning things that gentlemen have heard of vaguely, but are not comprised in his philosophy.

"I think I shall write a poem," he said to Burke; "not now, but as soon as it crystallizes. It will be stated in the cloudlike, soaring fashion of Ibsen." "Ye-oh," replied Burke, in a tone evidently intended to be pleasantly affirmative and not interrogative, and which was actually acquiescent; almost submissive.

For a long time after this Charlton seemed to be contemplating the poem he was to make. At last he sighed, shivered, and smiled, and picking up a book, fell to reading. He has a supply of books and magazines to choose from.

Gives His Views.

One of the four alienists that have been engaged by Judge Charlton, in refusing to discuss the case to-day, volunteered this, provided his name was not used: "Picture to yourself," said this man, "a boy with peculiar attributes; born with a genius for poetry, an appreciation of music as keen as that of no worm melody could reach him unmoved, no cheap, popular melody could fall to influence his mood. This boy has many troubles; he is afraid of darkness. He is not perfect physically. He feels a being apart. He never can be persuaded that he is like other boys. Not that he thinks himself better. No, he is convinced in his heart that he is

AUTO TRIP FATAL TO FOUR PERSONS

Two Dead, Two Dying, and Three Others Injured.

ACCIDENT NEAR PITTSBURG

William H. Hamilton, Trying Out a
New Machine, When It Is Hit by Interurban Car and Gasoline Tank
Explodes—Father and Son Killed in Wreckage—First Auto Ride.

Pittsburg, June 26.—William H. Hamilton, a wealthy furniture dealer of Roscoe, started out in his new touring car this afternoon with his wife, their family of two little girls and two older boys, and a neighbor girl to try out the machine.

He failed to stop quickly enough when he met an interurban car on the Pittsburg-Charlottesville line, fifteen miles out of Pittsburg. Motor and trolley collided, and the gasoline tank in the automobile exploded.

Hamilton was instantly killed and his eighteen-year-old son Leroy was burned to a crisp in the wreckage. All five survivors are in the Charlerville Hospital. Mrs. Hamilton is so badly burned she cannot recover. One little daughter has a fractured skull, and three other children have lesser hurts and burns. The total toll of death will be at least four.

Their First Auto Ride.

Leroy, the eighteen-year-old cripple, who lost his life with his father in the accident, had just finished a business course, and was to take a position in a store in the town this week. It was the family's first automobile trip. The children invited a little neighbor girl, Blanche McPheneey, to join the party, and the car left Roscoe heavily laden.

At the trolley crossing the father, nervous, stopped his machine too close to the track to clear the heavy interurban car, the car striking the automobile. There was a blinding flash and the trolley car took fire from the burning gasoline.

Passengers on the interurban car put on the brakes, unaware for the moment that the occupants of the automobile had not escaped. Every window in the coach had been broken. Several passengers were slightly burned.

The motorman, William Weible, leaped through the shattered window of his cab and pulled little Blanche McPheneey from the burning debris.

RING IS RESTORED.

John Mitchell Pays $100 for Recovery of Valuable Gift.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 26.—Engaged in a game of "batting suit baseball" with President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, Frank Morrison, secretary, and other leaders on the beach this morning, John Mitchell, one of the executive council of the federation and former head of the Mine Workers' Union, lost the $100 diamond ring presented to him by his admirers after settlement of the big Pennsylvania mine strike.

Capt. George Berke, a veteran life-guard, found the ring, and received a $100 bill from the labor leader, who was overjoyed at recovering his ring.

Mitchell arrived here yesterday with Gompers, Morrison, James Pritchett, and other leaders of the American Federation of Labor to attend the annual executive council of the building trades and metal workers' departments of the federation, which will take place at the Hotel Windsor to-morrow.

RENEW TONG FEUD.

Three Chinese Are Shot in Battle in Pell Street.

New York, June 26.—The big triangular flag of the Four Brothers was whipping from the roof of the Chinese Delmonico's at 24 Pell street to-day. The Four Brothers' Society was having its annual dinner in honor of the ancient four who founded the clan and of Chu Gan, a Four Brothers' man, who was honorably acquitted recently of the charge of murder.

Suddenly there were several shots fired in quick succession. When the smoke cleared away a Chinaman was found lying on the sidewalk. It was Sing Jen, a peaceable man, who was shot in the abdomen by the gunmen of On Leong Tong. A few feet away from Sing Jen lay Chu Fong, of the Four Brothers, shot in the head. Chu Pan, also of the same organization, sat with his back to the wall of the tenement and received a bullet in his thigh.

The battle ended as suddenly as it began. In the Hudson Street Hospital Chu Fong died. Sing Jen was said to be dying, and Chu Pan was held a prisoner.

Eight Chinese were locked up.

ROY PALMER AUTO
KILLS NEGRO GIRL

Georgetown Bottler Is at Hospital Unconscious.

INJURIES MAY BE FATAL

Machine Is Wrecked on Road Near Rockville.

Attempt to Steer Out of Danger of a Crowd of Children on Way to Derwood Results in the Death of Ruth Woods, and Gang of Negroes Threaten Lynching Until the Man's Condition Is Learned.

Ruth Woods, a negro girl, ten years old, is dead in Rockville, and Roy M. Palmer, a young Georgetown bottler, is at Casualty Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain as the result of an automobile accident on the Derwood road, about two miles from Rockville, at 7 o'clock last night.

Palmer's automobile is a wreck in a ditch on the side of the road. He was taken from the scene unconscious. It is not believed he will recover.

Meets Crowd of Children.

Palmer, who is thirty years old and the son of S. C. Palmer, founder of the Georgetown business, was on his way to the farm of H. H. West, near Derwood. He was running at a high rate of speed because of the growing darkness, and when he saw a crowd of children in the road he attempted to steer around them. The children scattered, and the Woods girl ran in front of the machine. Palmer made a desperate effort to dodge her, and the machine plunged into a ditch, crushing the child and burying the autoist in the wreck.

Near the scene of the accident there is a negro settlement, and when the child was found dead a cry of "Lynch the man" was started, but was silenced when it was found that Palmer was unconscious.

On Train to Hospital.

The negroes assisted in dragging Palmer from the wreck, and he was taken on a train to Union Station, with Dr. Lewis in attendance. From the station he was removed to Casualty Hospital, where at 3 o'clock this morning it was said he had not recovered, and his chances for recovery are slight. Besides concussion of the brain, he has a fractured shoulder.

ENRAGED HUSBAND

TAKES THREE LIVES

Kills Mother-in-law, Wife, and Then Himself.

Springfield, Me., June 26.—David Downes, a young farmer living a few miles out of this town, killed his wife; Mrs. Ivor Woodward, his mother-in-law, and himself, early this afternoon. The desperate act was due to the statement from Mrs. Downes that she had decided to leave her husband, a decision she was backed up in by her mother.

Downes is said to have frequently threatened to do bodily harm, and it was due to a recent reiteration of a threat of this nature that his wife had concluded it was unsafe to live with the man any longer.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, relatives of the former, called at the Downes residence. During a family discussion Mrs. Downes informed her husband that she was going home to live with her mother, and after Mrs. Woodward endorsed the scheme, Downes begged his wife, for the sake of their little girl, to remain with him, but finding his efforts unavailing, he suddenly grabbed a rifle and shot his mother-in-law in the mouth, killing her instantly.

Another shot struck his wife in the neck and she fell dead. Then Downes placed the muzzle of the weapon at his forehead and pulled the trigger with instantaneous fatal result.

Mr. Woodward and the Gibsons fled from the house when the first shot was fired, and hurried to the neighbors who hurried in, only to find three bodies lying on the kitchen floor.

PITCHER IS KILLED.

Dayton Amateur Struck by Thrown and Batted Ball.

Cincinnati, June 26.—While practicing for a ball game at Dayton, Ky., yesterday afternoon, Leonard Hand, a semi-professional ball-player, was hit with a batted ball and a thrown ball, and died last night.

Hand was twenty-one years old and a pitcher for the printers' union team here. He was in the pitcher's box, serving to the batsmen, when some one threw a ball directly at him at the same time the batter hit a ball at him. In attempting to dodge the ball he was hit in the ear, and both hit him, one behind the ear and the other on the right temple.

He dropped unconscious and was removed to his home, where he died four hours later.

BROWNE JURY DEADLOCKED.

One Talesman Holds Out to Save
Chicago Leader.

Chicago, June 26.—From the locked and heavily guarded rooms in which the Browne bribery jury is struggling to reach a verdict to-night, there emanated a story of the obstinate fight being waged by a lone juror to save the accused minority leader from the penitentiary.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon one of the jurors collapsed. A bailiff hurriedly procured medicine, and it was announced that the juror's condition was such that the twelve would cut their efforts to decide the case.

Charles Shere is the juror holding out.

ROOSEVELT MEETS
TAFT THIS WEEK

Conference at Beverly Wednesday or Thursday.

HUGHES MAY BE INVITED

Lodge and Longworth Are Also Expected to Attend.

Meeting an Important One and Thus Far Roosevelt Has Not Spoken a Word of Indorsement for Administration—May Urge That Hughes Decline Seat on Supreme Bench in Order to Save New York.

Oyster Bay, June 26.—When Col. Roosevelt forsakes the calm and quiet of Sagamore Hill on Tuesday for the gaiety of the Harvard commencement at Cambridge he will mark the beginning of what is likely to be a pretty important meeting. It is known here to-night that the colonel has arranged a conference with President Taft at Beverly. This is certain.

Mr. Roosevelt will hold his confab with the President Wednesday night, or possibly Thursday. He will go from Cambridge to Swampscott, Mass., whence he will be driven over to Beverly in the big touring car that he has taken such a fancy to all of a sudden. It has been suggested by men who are close friends to the colonel that Senator Lodge and Representative Nick Longworth would not surprise anybody if they dropped in along with the former President, and, perchance, Gov. Hughes.

No Indorsement Yet.

Those who have discussed politics with Col. Roosevelt know that he has not yet made up his mind in regard to the Taft administration. He hasn't indorsed or given any hint that he favors what the President has been doing, and he will not make a public announcement until he has had the opportunity of feeling his way.

The colonel is very busy at present attempting to get a line on how things stand, both locally and nationally. The wires to Sagamore Hill are getting hotter, and the mail is increasing tremendously every day. It is said to-night that Col. Roosevelt is going to try to get President Taft to exert his influence upon Gov. Hughes to give up the Federal Supreme Court bench for a third term in the gubernatorial chair at Albany.

The colonel is in dead earnest about Hughes saving the Republican party in New York State, and the visit of Hughes to Sagamore Hill some time soon will be a mighty interesting one to the paper men here have been on edge all week in expectation of the governor's arrival. Several letters have passed between them concerning it.

Spends Day with Family.

Until Col. Roosevelt leaves Sagamore Hill for New York to take the train to Boston Tuesday he will remain as quiet as he is able. To-day is the first time since he returned from the African jungle, and, indeed, since he left the White House he has spent a day with his family. There were no visitors.

In the morning the colonel attended the Episcopal church with his boys, Archie and Quentin. Mrs. Roosevelt didn't accompany him. Of course the inhabitants of Oyster Bay, who would rather gaze on the former President than do most anything else, were out in full force. As he stepped out of the church after the Rev. H. H. Washburn had conducted services, the colonel was held up for a handsome reception. He responded with a "hello."

During the afternoon he walked, wrote, read, and chatted with his family. He put in a couple of hours arranging the countless trophies he brought back with him. The house on Sagamore Hill is so littered with all sorts of stuff that it will be weeks before things are arranged to the satisfaction of the colonel. He will spend a good part of to-morrow around the Hill. No guests are scheduled to come up.

Will Undergo Operation.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt will undergo an operation on his throat to-morrow. Just how serious the affection that troubles him is could not be learned accurately to-day, but from the information gathered it is assured that a growth, perhaps not serious, but now threatening grave complications, will be cut away.

He will reach the office of Dr. Walter Franklin Chappell, in No. 7 East Fifty-fifth street, about 11 o'clock in the morning, prepared for the ordeal. Preparations have been made for the operation after several consultations, and it is expected that Dr. Chappell, who is a specialist on throat affections, will be assisted by a physician from the Manhattan Eye and Throat Hospital.

WOMEN ROB AUTOISTS

Gypsies Arrested for Holding Up
Driver and Companion.

Newburgh, N. Y., June 26.—Four gypsies were arrested last night, when Sheriff Isaac Lozier and a posse raided a gypsy camp near Roseton. The prisoners are accused of holding up and robbing John Jova, a brick manufacturer.

Mr. Jova, and a companion were on their way to Roseton in an automobile when they ran into a big rope which had been suspended across the road. When the car stopped it was surrounded by the gypsies, who had been hiding. While the men made Jova and his companion hold up their hands, the women rifled their pockets.

DIAZ AGAIN WINS
MEXICAN ELECTION

No Disorder at Polls, Rain
Keeping Crowds Away.

CORRAL PROBABLY DEFEATED

Anti-re-electionists Along the Rio Grande Border Hold in Opposition to Present Executive—Their Candidate, Madero, Is in Jail—Saloons
Are Closed All Day Sunday.

El Paso, Tex., June 26.—It may have been providential, but rain along the Mexican border to-day kept the crowds in most of the time, and a very light vote is said to have been polled in the election for Presidential and Vice Presidential electors. Troops were in evidence in considerable numbers at all of the polling places, and crowds were not tolerated.

Last night troops patrolled all the streets and prevented any meetings, unless they were in small numbers and very quiet. At Cananea the smelter was shut down to-day, and the first paper was issued containing the names of officials of the anti-re-electionists' club, and showing Judge Amador, State Tax Collector Arguilles, and many prominent men aligned with the Diazites.

The appearance of Gen. Felix Diaz in Juarez and El Paso yesterday and to-day is said to have added boldness to the anti-re-electionists, as Diaz has just been deposed as chief of the Mexico City police for opposing the election of Corral as vice president and for other offenses of a like character, and it is said that the electors may select this young man or Gen. Reyes for vice president when they meet on the 10th to declare an election.

Concede Diaz's Election.

The anti-re-electionists seem to have given up hope of electing a man against Diaz. Their candidate, Madero, is in jail, and some one remarked in Juarez to-day: "The Mexicans don't stand long for a loser."

They claim that Diaz is almost deaf and cannot hold out as head of affairs much longer. And they apparently have bent their efforts in the last day or so to electing their choice as vice president. A telegram from Mexico City to-day, from a nonpartisan source, declares that Corral will never be the vice president, though the re-election of Diaz will be certain. A banquet is arranged for Mexico City next week to celebrate the thirty years' service as President of Gen. Diaz.

Liberals Win in Panama.

Panama, June 26.—The election of municipal councilors and other officials throughout the republic occurred to-day in a quiet and orderly manner. All saloons were closed.

The returns thus far show that the Liberal party in this city triumphed by a large majority. Reliable telegrams from Colon and the interior provinces show Liberal triumphs also.

Elections will be held next Sunday for members of the national assembly. These elections are regarded as being of greater importance than any heretofore held, and the parties are preparing for a lively contest.

American Yacht Westward Wins

Berlin, June 26.—The American yacht, Westward, which won the Krupp cup Friday in the Kiel regatta, beating the Kaiser's Meteor and two other contestants, won another victory to-day at Kiel, beating Herr Bohlen Halbeck's Germania and the Meteor. The Kaiser, the chancellor, and other notable men were aboard the Meteor.

MR. TAWNEY SAYS $907,000,000

Representative Livingston Declares Appropriations This Year Amount to $1,054,000,000, or $10,000,000
More Than the Billion Dollar Congress of Roosevelt Regime.

Was this a billion dollar session?
Is the Taft administration, with its promise of retrenchment and reform, to be more expensive than the Roosevelt regime?

Republicans and Democrats differ widely on the subject, and both parties intend to use their particular views for campaign material this fall.

The row over the expenditures authorized by Congress at this session promises to be lively.

Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and Representative Livingston, of Georgia, the senior minority member of the committee, will issue their annual statements on the subject to-day.

Mr. Tawney will make the emphatic claim that the session of Congress just ended was not a billion dollar affair, that the total amount appropriated was $907,000,000, as compared with $1,000,000,000, and that consequently the administration has made good on its pledge of economy. It seems odd to the average citizen that there should be any chance for disagreement as to the amount of money appropriated by Congress at any session. It would seem to be a simple matter of determination with the aid of a pencil and paper or an adding machine. But it isn't by a long shot.

Mr. Tawney includes in his list only those appropriations which will be a charge on the Treasury during the fiscal year following the session at which the

THREE DIE IN FIRE.

Revolver Shots Save Lives of Many Hotel Guests.

Auburn, N. Y., June 26.—The Seneca Hotel, a landmark at Seneca Falls, was destroyed by fire before daylight to-day. Three of the twenty-five guests lost their lives. The fact that the fire was discovered before it had gained headway and the giving of an alarm by a fusillade of revolver shots that promptly awakened the guests, alone prevented great loss of life.

The dead are:
Mr. and Mrs. Edw. White, of Rochester.

Unidentified man, from Cayuga, N. Y. The latter is supposed to have caused the fire. He entered the hotel late last night intoxicated and unable to register. He was assigned to a room in the basement, and there the fire was discovered.

SEE BOYS DROWN.

Father Unable to Help His Two Little Sons.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Richmond, Va., June 26.—Locked in each others arms, Maxie, aged ten, and Sidney, aged eight, sons of Meyer Cohen, a representative of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, were drowned while bathing in the James River here this afternoon.

The father attempted to go to their rescue, but being unable to swim, almost shared the fate of his children, being swept down stream under the surface for a distance of about 150 feet, and lodging against a bear trap from where he was picked up by a boatman in an unconscious condition.

Both the father and mother are almost frantic with grief. The father had taken the boys out bathing, and they got beyond their depth.

BUTLER AMES OUT
FOR LODGE'S TOGA

Bitterly Attacks Senator as Interests' Tool.

GIVES OUT STATEMENT

Holds He Is Making Race to Relieve Massachusetts.

"It Is Hard to Believe," Says Representative's Document, "That Former President Roosevelt Will Lend
His Political Support, as Reported, to One Who Violates Moral Teachings of Which He Is Exponent."

Representative Butler Ames, of Massachusetts, formally announced his candidacy last night for the United States Senate, to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge. Representative Ames has started after the Senator's political scalp. He issued a statement, bitterly attacking him.

He charges that the Lodge machine in Massachusetts is used, under orders from the Senator, to advance selfish financial schemes of large railroads and manufacturing interests.

The Massachusetts Representative adds that the Lodge machine for many years has been a part of a lobby that has piled its trade at the Massachusetts Statehouse. He characterizes Senator Lodge's service in the United States Senate as "cringing to Boston capitalists," and there are plenty other red-hot statements in the Ames attack.

Must Fight Roosevelt.

Mr. Ames has heard that former President Roosevelt had promised to make at least one speech in Massachusetts next fall for his friend, Senator Lodge. There is little doubt that the former President has given the Senator a promise to this effect, and the circumstance seems to be a particularly bitter pill for Mr. Ames to swallow.

"It is hard to believe," says he in his statement, "that the former President will lend himself to the political support of one, even though a friend, who has consistently violated in Massachusetts all the moral teachings of which he is the great exponent."

It has been known for several months that Butler Ames was out to fight Lodge, but his formal declaration has been awaited with interest. The opposition to Lodge has assumed sufficient proportions to give that statesman a good deal of concern.

Done to End Logdom.

The Ames statement was issued in the third person. Here it is in part:

"Mr. Ames now makes the official announcement of his candidacy for the United States Senate, having tried in vain to induce some one else to lead the fight against Boss Lodge and his political machine."

"This machine, backed by all the large corporations and by all the State and Federal patronage at his command, has served for many years as a ready and efficient tool to crush all political ambitions, endeavors, or opinions not sanctioned by Mr. Lodge."

"His orders have been to crush not only to suit his own political ends, but also to advance the selfish financial schemes of the large railroads, banking and manufacturing interests he serves in the halls of Congress, as well as in the Massachusetts legislature."

"His machine, controlling for so many years the political destinies in the State, has been connected with, has been a party to, and has grown up with the lobby that piles its trade at the Statehouse."

"The well-recognized leader of the lobby has been a member of the State central committee for more than a decade. In that capacity he has been a leader, and his word was law; for was and is he not one of Mr. Lodge's closest political friends and advisers?"
